

its position for the worse.

For these reasons, therefore, this Court will sign an appropriate Decree annulling the tax sale and rescinding the decree of foreclosure, subject to repayment to the respondent of all expenses incurred by it which would inure to the benefit of the petitioners. It is hopeful that the parties can agree to the amount due the respondent but, if not, then this matter shall be determined at a future hearing.

James W. Barnard
JUDGE

22nd November, 1969